ARGENTINA MAY CHANGE PENSION TO HALT STRIKE

Faces Food Shortage as Tieup Grows.

BUENOS AIRES, May 4 .- (By Unit. ed News.]—With cities of the Argen-tine republic tied up by a general strike in protest against the old age pensions law, a showdown in the situation is spected tomorrow when President Al-ear will draft a message to congress ecommending changes in the law to neet the objections of workers and mployers.

At present the hw provides that 5 er cent of each worker's salary be et aside for a fund from which all hall draw pensions at some age to e fixed. It is expected that the presient's message will state exactly when nd at what age the pensions will be aid, and also how much the pensions will be.

It is believed that by tomorrow the bread shortage will be acute in Buenos Aires and other large cities. The port traffic here is at a standstill as a result of the maritime strike, but it is reported that the government is preparing to utilize marine conscripts to move the most necessary shipping.

See Scheme to Avold Lean.

There is a general impression, which is being fostered by various opponents of the pensions scheme, that official-dom believed the government could raise a huge fund by means of the pensions scheme, and thus obviate the necessity of an expensive and difficult foreign loan. The pensions measure makes but the most vague reference as to the disposal of the amounts accruing from the salary deductions.

It is probable, however, that the sovernment originally planned the pensions law as a piece of election propa-fortunate purchase in the Eastern Market provides this opportunity for You to buy at even lower prices

THIS shipment has just arrived and is now ready for your inspection in our spacious display rooms, second floor, Mallers Building, 5 South Wabash Ave.

Here are values greater, we believe, than have ever been offered in the history of rug selling in Chicago.

The question we are asked repeatedly by our customers is this: "How can you sell such fine Oriental rugs at such amazingly low prices?" Here is our answer:

First: Our location in the heart of the shopping district, but one floor above the "high rents," reduces our overhead to a minimum, and you get the benefit of this.

Second: Volume of sales. A turnover of our stock five and a half times in twelve months is phenomenal in the Oriental Rug business, and you get the benefit of this.

Third: This exceptional purchase in the Eastern markets gives us a third reason for the still lower prices at this time. You get the benefit of this, and right at the height of the spring rug buying season.

Every rug sold carries with it a guarantee of perfect satisfaction.

See what sizes you need in your home, and come to make an early selection.

The two women left their hor rinidad, Colo., four years ago, taking with them Pauline and Dorls, the tiny children of Mrs. Brittendale, and Fred, Edward and Frances, the equally small children of Mrs. Foster. Found Sex Against Them

According to their story today to As-ciated Charities representatives here, mily differences compelled them to ave and seek a living for themselves and their charges. Their sex was against them in seeking work.

Mrs. Brittendale, posing successfully as a man, found more success, although given a man's hard trasks, such as Traced by Husband. The husband of Mrs. Foster traced his wife to Oakland and asked the As sociated Charities to investigate. Mrs. Brittendale, according to her story, ad found the urge of motherhood too hard to resist, and had regumed the naternal relation. The investigation ended with a mer report to Foster on the situation. Once established at Emeryville, Mrs. Foster had been able to find work pufclient to support herself. Mrs. Brit endale is 30 and Mrs. Foster 31.

WHO GOT $35,000 ON PEORIA JOB

Chicago detectives and highway police were watching all trains and all automobile arteries from Peoria yes terday for six burglars—one a giant—who blew a department store safe in that city and escaped toward Chicago carrying $35,000 in currency. The men gained entrance to the store of Block & Kuhl, handcuffed Henry McCallip, watchman; William Mead, a porter, and Eugene Thompson, engineer, to steam pipes in the basement and then went to the effice on the fifth floor.

Expensive rugs were piled about the safe to deaden the explosion and a specially made twelve pound hammer coverage of Allanta preached.

OPEN THE ROADS TO THE PEOPLE.

The congestion of Chicago extends on roads far out into the suburbs and the country. Any pleasant Sunday so clogs the roads that driving is more of an ordeal than a pleasure, and citizens are denied the rights which they ought to be able to enjoy.

A trip to the country on a pleasant Sunday ought to be open to the householder and his family. As an automobile owner he is taxed for roads, and insufficient. He is able merely to join a slow procession of cars stretching endlessly beyond him and

He and Walsh were not out for justice, but for scandal, welcoming untruth as eagerly as truth, and giving credence to testimony which had no rent plausibility and no substantiation. Their hope was apparent that many reputations would fall, that a party would be found completely blackened by treachery to the people, and that the whole nation would be shamed. These hopes were evidenced in the procedure. THE NAVY AND THE PEOPLE.

One of Mr. Denby's acts as secretary of the navy was to invite a widely representative party of newspaper editors to attend on the fleet maneuvers of February. About eighty editors took the voyage. They represented every section of the coun try and every class of newspaper, from the smaller city press to the huge metropolitan journal.

Some of the results of what was a rare educa tional experience for us all are beginning to show and we trust the navy department is taking note of them, for Mr. Denby's plan should be made permanent. Several of the editors have been good to send THE TRIBUNE the articles written upon the trip; and it is clear from them that the ican people are to learn a good deal it does not know but ought to know of the navy, its spirit, plishment, its needs and problems.

The navy has needed this interpretation to the nation. The press and the public need knowledge of the navy. We landsmen think of national deense, if at all, in an abstract way which does not ce intelligent support. The navy is at sea and the people seldom see it, except for the casual visits in port, which do not help us of the interior. But no one who has not been on a modern war vessel and who has not discovered for himself what an extraordinary synthesis of science, invention, and human skill it represents can properly appreaft and its complicated organization, its rents of tactical training, engineering, guntional security, is the unaleeping vigilance and itting effort required to maintain our sea

Yet without a pretty general, if rather vague. find its legitimate demands neglected. We think hands of Chicago papers. it of the greatest importance that at least once in | every few years a representative body of editors go to the fleet and see its operations. Other newsers than those represented on the trip of Feb ruary should go on the next, which should be when the fleet concentrates again in Caribor Atlantic waters, for Hawaii or California

But the plan should be-adopted as a permaner ile we are on the topic of the navy and the public, we take leave to repeat our plea that naval officers shall be not only permitted but enouraged to discuss all naval questions publicly. Our policy of repression and censorship is a serious mistake. It shuts out of the discussion of matters of vital moment to the nation men who are among the best qualified to give authoritative information and good advice. Both army and navy men should be instructors of the nation in all questions of national defense. We unhesitatingly go farther They should be encouraged to join candidly and freely in discussing the larger questions of our nternational policy, for there can be no intelligent consideration of naval or military policy apart from international policy. The one is merely an expression of the other. The most deplorable results have always come from divorcing them.

A STRIKING WARNING.

The Chicago crime commission reports the mur ler problem as "fast reaching a point beyond the ontrol of the authorities."

The commission is not a sensation seeking or ganization or a self advertiser, and it speaks with the facts. Eighty-six murders or homicides have already been committed this year in Chicago, nearly one a day, a rate which if kept up will make a new record, and our murder records of the past are already a shame to the community. Discussing causes the commission emphasizes the delay of justice and points out that it is the cases where trials have taken place after many ecur.

This is inevitable. Delays mean a steady leakage of the moral sense of outrage. The crime grows dim. The victim is forgotten. Meantime witnesses are lost or their memories are less exact and vivid. The sinister influences which have play in the world of organized crime and corrupt politics gain opportunities to operate. Funds are found for employing expert practitioners in the art of defeating justice.

Finally even when convictions are secured the moral effect upon the community is weakened when de wants most to use them they are entirely by the tardiness of punishment. Justice must be swift to strike terror to the evilly disposed.

This is a truism, but what a terrible light it throws upon our negligence as to crimes of violence and the obvious reforms they cry for in this ned this summer and more roads opened to community. Less than half of the offenders tried for murder last year were penalized, and of nine sentenced to hang only one reached the gallows. The chances, made possible by the delays in our process of criminal justice, are so favorable to killers that murder hardly deserves to be ranked as a hazardous act.

The commission appeals for special consideration Much of the sympathy which Senator Wheeler by our public authorities of the situation, and de night expect from people who think that a dis- clares that "the authorities are too tolerant of concreditable attack was made on him is chilled by ditions that make for murder, that too many mur etion of his own proceedings when the charders are unsolved, that evidence is neither efficiently gathered nor safely protected, that there The indignation of the senators, Wheeler, Walsh, is too little care in the preparation of murder

One of the few constructive proposals on tax revision contributed by the Democrats amid their vote catching experiments in tax legislation is that of Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, who offers tions of Senator Wheeler or Senator Walsh. an amendment providing that the inheritance tax Neither have we any respect for the idea that be shall apply to the beneficiary and not to the estate. cause a man is in the United States senate his This would correct the injustice and illogic of the present law, which penalizes large families and the distribution of estates. is distasteful. Out of doors play is the best cure for lack of appetite. He thinks food between meals is a frequent cause of poor appetite. He is against the routine use of milk and crackers in school for that reason. Especially is it true that milk and cracker, at school spoils the appetite of the nervous, finicky child. When a child will not eat a meal he should not be allowed to eat anything until the next meal.
One dose of that treatment will cure most cases of poor appetite. Children should not be asked to decide what they will eat. To do so generally causes them to accumulate a lot of food antipathies. Of the causes of poor appetite other than bad habits and bad hygiene, diseased tonsils heads the list.

SIDEWALK IN COMMON. Chicago, May 1.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I bought a house six months ago, and the man who sold it to me lives right next door to me now there has always been on sidewalk between the two properties, but now he is putting down another sidewalk and wants to erect a wooden fence which would keep all the sun from my lower windows. There is a garage in the rear and the sidewalk is only two feet wide, and in case of fire I don't see how we would escape. Has he the right to put n another fence? If there was a sidewalk used in common at the time of your purchase, it seems prob-able that you are in a position to enforce an easement, but we cannot give conclusive ad-

Specially Priced at $57.50, $75 and $95

THE three Coats illustrated merely suggest the many styles at these prices. The model at $57.50, for instance, is a splendid example of the spring Coat without fur. It has an unusual trimming of small boxplaited bands which puff out becomingly when the collar is rolled back. The material is a twill of excellent quality.

At $75, we are picturing on the third figure a twill Coat in tan, navy, graystone, or black, with bands in reverse weave on skirt and cuff, and a collar of squirrel locks. The model at $95, pictured second, is of a beautiful quality of twill in black with white hairline stripes or plaid. The collar is of smart white ermine. Many other styles and colors may be found within this range of moderate prices.

Twill Coats without fur are priced as low as $40; a generous assortment of effective models, with fur from $57.50 upward; Motor Coats of beautiful soft woolens, from $67.50 upward.

The Improved Wrapping Paper

When one of the largest paper manufacturers in the world decided to make wrapping paper he called in a group of experts and asked their advice.

"I understand that bundles are breaking and thousands of dollars worth of valuable merchandise is being damaged every day because of poor paper. What should be done?"

The experts all agreed that the ideal wrapping or bag paper must have three characteristics:

- 1. Strength
- 2. Elasticity.
- 3. Harmony of Color.

After months of study and experiment Backus Grey was produced and all agree that it is the ideal wrapping paper at last.

Backus Grey has the Strength

Backus Grey has all the strength that unlimited water power and the highest quality sulphate can put into wrapping paper. It stands every test and is recognized as the best protection for merchandise of every kind.

Backus Grey has Elasticity

It stretches and shapes itself around the corners just enough to prevent making holes. If it were not for the enormous expense, rubber in some respects would be the ideal wrapper for such merchandise. Backus Grey comes as near to this ideal as is possible for a paper.

Backus Grey is the Most Harmonious Color Color experts all agree that the color of wrapping paper and bags should be inconspicuous and neutral. Backus Grey is what interior decorators call rose taupe. It is a grey that carries an air of refinement, quietness and strength. It is not a light grey but one that looks clean and stays clean.

Writing in pencil is easily discernible on it.

It is a conservative color that harmonizes with the color of any merchandise as well as the clothing of the one who may carry it.

Call or Telephone for a Demonstration

We do not wish you to adopt this improved wrapping paper until you are thoroughly convinced of its great advantage. We are willing to assume all the expense of a demonstration on your own merchandise. Try it out on your particular kind of packages until you are thoroughly satisfied.

The distributors whose names appear below are experienced paper men and will be pleased to call upon you at your convenience to make a demonstration on your own merchandise without obligation.

BISHOPS URGE CHURCH UNION OF METHODISTS

Also Advise Old Rule on Amusements.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Springfield, Mass., May 4.—(Special.)—The declaration that the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church unitedly and earnestly recommended union with the Methodist Episcopal Church South, from which it was separated in 1844 on account of slavery, brought an audience of 4,000 to their feet with a prolonged demonstration of applause this afternoon at the Methodist general conference at the municipal auditorium.

The session was set apart for the reading of the episcopal message. Vigorous applause greeted many of the paragraphs, but the greatest came at the conclusion of the declaration, "that united Methodism will have a multiplied power for good with the early consummation of the union of the churches."

In greater detal, said: "Again we record our regret that paragraph 280 of the discipline puts us in so unfortunate a position. This paragraph has proved an embarrassment to many pastors, and to the largest success of the work of the church, especially among our young people. There is no disagreement among us as to the desirability of correcting the evils specified. The only difference of opinion is as to the way to deal with the situation."

Grieve at Divorce Evil.

Concerning the divorce evil the statement is:

THE INTELLECTUAL BEVERAGE BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Act on Amusement Problem.

The moot question of amusements also aroused a lively interest and rounds of applause as Bishop Berry expressed the belief of the bishops that the present law of the church was embarrassing and ought to be changed and recommended a return to the earlier practice in the church.

Specifically, however, the Episcopal report advised confining the ban of the church on those amusements "which cannot be enjoyed in the name of Jesus Christ."

Imitator Enjoined

Imperial Perfumery & Barber Supplies, Inc., of New York enjoined by U.S. Court from imitating ED. PINAUD'S Eau de Quinine

H. & G. Klotz, proprietors of Parfumerie ED. PINAUD, have obtained a preliminary injunction against Imperial Perfumery & Barber Supplies, Inc. This decision supports the contention of H. & G. Klotz with regard to the defendant's imitation of ED. PINAUD'S Eau de Quinine.

Judge Winslow's opinion states in part:

"The action is brought to restrain alleged unfair competition of the defendant through a simulation of the defendant of the characteristics and marks and dress of a package containing a product marketed by plaintiffs known as ED. PINAUD'S Eau de Quinine.

"The general impression made by the defendant's package upon the eye of the casual purchaser is likely to result in his conclusion that it is the original article marketed for many years by the plaintiffs and their

Let us show you how this washer is used in Apartment Kitchens

MOST washing machines could never be used in a small kitchen. But this new model Federal was especially designed for just that purpose. It is compact, fits into limited space and may be rolled about easily on ball bearing castors. It is practically vibrationless and noiseless and has no moving wheels or belts exposed. This latter is especially important, when a machine is to be used in small quarters and children are playing around. Best of all, the Federal is never in the way. Between washdays it becomes a full-sized kitchen table. The wringer is removable and the porcelain table top fits right on the top of the machine.

It's practical to wash in your kitchen! It's being done by hundreds of thrifty Chicago women, many of whom have given us permission to use their rames. You can call them up. And let us demonstrate the Federal in your own kitchen. See exactly how it can be used there.

A Gala Selling of Afternoon Dresses

To better serve our growing clientele, we are now occupying the entire first floor of our present building. This is in addition to our spacious second floor, making Leffingwell's the largest and most complete establishment of its kind on Upper Michigan Avenue.

In honor of this expansion, we are today inaugurating a week's special selling of summery afternoon frocks at $37.50, $47.50 and $57.50. These smart new dresses were made to sell for much more, and only a very fortunate purchase permits us to offer them at such inviting prices. So great is the variety of styles, colors and fabrics that a happy choice is assured; in fact, you will want two or more.

America's foremost designer of millinery has just sent us the very smartest of his originations for summer.

A new importation of this rare Parisian scent again enables us to supply the everincreasing demand.

One Policy . One System . Universal Service

Policemen should look like policemen

-when regulating traffic

Chief Collins of the Chicago police department has the right idea. He states that the work of motorcycle policemen can best be done by men in full uniform. And accordingly all his traffic men and motorcycle men will be attired in new light-weight, gray uniforms, beginning the first of June.

Chief Collins knows that one uniformed policeman on patrol duty is worth more toward maintaining law and order than half a dozen plain clothes men lurking in corners waiting for some unsuspecting law-breaker to come along.

It would increase traffic safety everywhere - in all the city park systems and in the suburban towns as well as on the county highways-if all policemen on traffic duty were compelled to patrol their districts in full uniform. The sight of such officers would be the best deterrent in the world to the habitually reckless driver.

This Association emphatically recommends to officials in charge of the various police bodies in and around Chicago that they put their traffic policemen in uniform and keep them on the move and in plain view all the time.

When a driver is chased and caught, the crime has already been committed. Why not make it practically impossible for anybody to drive criminally? Uniformed, constantly patrolling policemen would accomplish this result and automatically reduce the number of accidents involving motor cars. Certainly, so far as traffic regulation is concerned, it is better for the public that traffic policemen make themselves conspicuous and thereby discourage criminal driving. Don't you agree with us?

Suggestions for improvement in traffic regulation and vehicle operation are invited.

Annual Motor Touring and Camping Exhibit

Now in Progress on Our Fifth Floor

THE delights of motor-touring, the joys of gypsying de luxe, with every rise and bend in the road contributing its little thrill of expectancy and disclosing fresh novelties in the flowing landscape—these are enjoyed to the fullest degree only when you go properly equipped.

Our Fifth Floor Motor Utilities Section has provided an up-to-the-moment exhibit of everything designed to add to the comfort, safety, freedom, and convenience of motor-touring, whether for short or long trips.

Foreign Touring Bureau: Information about touring in this country can be so readily had, that we have thought it a point of service to extend our facilities and provide for those who are planning a motor tour abroad. Through the cooperation of the Cunard Steamship Company we have established a Foreign Touring Bureau where you can obtain authoritative information on any phase of motor travel in Europe or the British Isles.

HERE are ten reasons why a home supply of Gargoyle Mobiloil is becoming so popular:

[1] Gargoyle Mobiloil is produced by the foremost specialists in scientific lubrication—a standing freely acknowledged in scientific

[2] The selection of oil having the correct body and character for your engine is assured when you follow the Vacuum Oil Company's Chart of Recommendations.

[3] Cargoyle Mobiloil and the Chart are endorsed by practically every automobile

[4] Gargoyle Mobiloil is sold in handy sized containers for the home supply—the 5-gallon can and the 15-, 30-, or 55-gallon steel drums (which have convenient and leak-proof

[5] 15 gallons of oil bought in single "quarts" means sixty trips for oil! You make only one trip when you buy a 15-gallon drum or three when you buy in 5-gallon cans.

[6] With a home supply of Mobiloil you can always have the proper amount of oil in your engine before driving away. You form the valuable habit of seeing frequently that the oil level is correct—just as you look at the tires, gasoline supply, and the water in your radiator. This means much better operation. The frequent addition of fresh oil helps to maintain the body of the entire oil supply in the crank-case. the crank-case.

[7] You are sure always that you are using genuine Gargoyle Mobiloil. You eliminate the necessity of accepting some other oil from a dealer who may not have Mobiloil.

[8] When the oil in the engine has been used for 1000 miles, you can at a convenient time drain and refill the crank-case with fresh oil. This is best done after a short run while the oil is still hot, so that the sediment and foreign matter will be drained out with it.

[9] Economy. The continuous use of Gargoyle Mobiloil will substantially reduce the oil consumption and, more important, assure you freedom from repairs, as well as dding years to the life of your car.

[10] In short, an adequate supply of Gar-goyle Mobiloll is the most important single item you can put in your home garage. For correct lubrication is the most important attention you can give your engine. It protects you against the two greatest expenses: [1] engine repairs and [2] car depreciation.

or the charade game? At 29 Mr. Archie Mount was conscientiously, solemnly laying out, on prim-re platters of flat pebble, brook trout that he had caught with his own hands -just as if he were not within a morning's walk of a French road! That road mest surely lead in time to some French town, of narrow, coffee scented streets and provision shops? Surely those not too distant shops would, after their habit, be spilling over on to the cobbles their store of seductive foods? But there he rootled and wrought, earnestly as if he himself believed that but for his efforts he and she must starve to death. He was not even whistling

Here he stopped, violently staccato. For he had seen. His blue eyes, videning under their thick black brows, fixed themselves upon the mule's shoe that Margaret had slung into her belt. He'stared, silently.

"You may well say that, Mr. Mount," remarked Margaret.

Frenziedly he wondered how much she had found out? Had she been up as far as one of the gray stone shepherd's hovels complete with climbing vines, tetbered goat, and tragic faced madonna squatting on doorstep? Had she limit—What would she tell him?

He said, tensely, "Anyhow had we not better lunch now?"

This conventionality almost caused to fade away from around him cliff, rocks, bonfire, and to conjure up in their place the crimson wall papers and pooderous furniture of his London club. Politely he added, "I suppose you've not had anything to eat, Miss Verity?"

Miss Verity opened great eyes upon him; caught a small corner of underlip not had anything to eat, Miss Verity?"

Miss Verity opened great eyes upon him; caught a small corner of underlip between her teeth. On the point of nervous laughter, she took refuge in what may be described as prep school wit. "Anything to eat?" she feinted. "Up on the hills there? Not being a goat, I don't eat bushes or grass."

"Then why ask if I have had anything to eat?"

"Then why ask if I have had anything to eat?"

"I happened to notice that." He nodded towards that mule's shoe.

"I happened to notice that." He nodded towards that mule's shoe.

Margaret, unslinging it from the belt, looked at it guilelessly. "That?

But not being an ostrich, either, I can't eat metal."

This deplorable sally, regretted as soon as produced, he met courteously. "I mean, of course, that it showed me where you have been."

"Then you know where I've been?"

"Of course, Miss Verity. As far as the road, at least."

"O, I thought you meant that you knew the name of the place? I thought you were going to tell it to me? Aren't you?"

"What," asked Mr. Mount resignedly, "is the use of my telling you, if you know it?"

"What," asked Mr. Mount resignedly," is the use of my telling you, if you know it?"

Here he scored his first point. Margaret bit her lip, exasperated that she had seen on the yellow painted signpost.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY MRS. F. E .: NO, I DON'T THINK any mental cure would shed your avoirdupois. You could tell yourself a million times a day that you were getting thinner and thinner, but if you kept on eating heartily and sitting around comfortably your faith would be the only thing reduced within a given time. But if you told yourself you were going to get thinner and thinner you could do it. That would mean you were going to eat just one-half as much food at breakfast, lunch, and dinner, nothing between meals, and instead of sitting on the veranda put a lot of faith into your walking shoes. If you want some help in a remedy guaranteed to procure results in proportion to the honesty with which you follow directions on what to eat and what not to eat, send s. a. e. for my reducing instructions.

Chicken with Rice.

HAVANA. - [Special Corresp nce.]-The most interesting and desir able thing about the famous Cubar dish, chicken with rice, or "arros o pollo," seems to me to be the piece of primitive pottery in which it is served. There are many sizes of these round brown dishes with a somewhat rock-ing bottom, glazed only on the inside, and that for individual service is not small. In any country where rice is featured—remember the pillau, the Milanese risotto, etc.—a serving is large almost always, which is reason able and right from a dietetic stand point, for these dishes in most cases constitute a one piece meal. If I should set out without a recipe to make arroz con pollo, I should make a brown fricassee of chicken with a great deal of gravy-using the skinned feet, neck, and wings of the chicken for this, and I should cook a considerable quantity of rice, with emphasi on its being well cooked, and then I and the rice. DWARDSVILLE, Ill., May 4—[Special.] — Diversification of agriculture has kept the farmer sin this section during the last few years. Agriculture changes its colors with the different kinds of crops from St. Louis and Alton. Here some of the finest melons in the country are grown. Most of them are shipped to the Detroit market.

Rye, which is commonly grown on this sandy soil the season before melons are to be planted, is now kneen high along the ridge. Heads have already formed in some of the fields.

What's back of this big shift? Why are men changing by thousands?

BIG EVENTS happen rarely in the eig-But if today you were "behind the scenes," you could sit and watch a thing going on that—in a mild way perhaps might open any man's eyes. The Man in the Street, the average smoker, is hardly aware that anything's happen He might chance to notice that Smith has changed to another cigarette. Or, sitting with a group, it might occur to him that three or four of them have "switched" quite lately.

No—there's nothing spectacular about it.

But when every small brook starts to rise, there's a big flood in the river—and "flood" is exactly the word to describe this thing we are talking about.

What is it that is happening? The thing that is happening is simply that, for months now, an average of over one thousand men EVERY DAY in this country (1,000 every day—think of it!) are changing from other cigarettes to Chesterfield.

Is cigarette taste changing? We don't know. But we do know that smokers are changing—over 150,000 have changed to Chesterfield since New Year's Day.

Nothing to get excited about, of course; but not a thing quite to ignore either—if you are interested in "what's what" in smoking.

Why are these men changing? Is it Chesterfield's exceptional tobaccos, the fortunate blend, the unusual freedom from "sweetening," or what? Perhaps you don't care.

Perhaps the only thing you care about is "How do they TASTE?" All right. When it comes to that, Chesterfields—if you give them the chance will tell their own story (and prove it!) in a far better way than we can.

Such popularity must be deserved

Stabilized Advertising Values

DVERTISERS who first began to buy space in THE A WORLD in 1883, or in THE EVENING WORLD in 1887, have about forty years of cumulative influence back of every line of space used in these newspapers.

This is what some advertising experts call continuity of impression, and the wisest among them place a high value on it. In a measure, it is the quality a merchant seeks when he asks for a given, definite location for each insertion of his copy.

You cannot buy continuity of impression in newspapers that are here to-day and gone to-morrow. Mergers, absorptions and intertwining of newspapers disturb readers and destroy one of the most essential qualities of sane advertising.

Unaffected by overnight changes of ownership or policies, THE WORLD and THE EVENING WORLD continue to deliver that consistency of service without which advertising is only another form of commercial bally-hoo!

The Signature of a Dead Hand

The records showed that a railroad engineer sold a vacant lot to another man, who in turn sold to a third. We guaranteed the third owner's title.

Three years later, the engineer's son declared the sale had been made on a forged deed. "My father," said he, "was killed in a railroad accident two years before he is supposed to have sold this lot."

It was a clear case of forgery, and we promptly paid the claim.

Most of the employes have been with the company many years. Over a thousand have served 25 years or more. It is their life work and they are interested in doing it well.

In an organization of 12,000 trainmen there are, of course, some who fail to sense the spirit of the majority.

It will help the majority in their efforts for better service if passengers will inform the company of any shortcomings. It also will encourage them if passengers will co
